4 Vermont Pastel Society (VPS) has announced the winners
5 of this year's juried member show.

6 After an initial jurying process led by Margaret Dyer and
7 Dawn Emerson determined the 23 pastels in this year's show,
8 nationally recognized pastelist Liz Haywood-Sullivan selected the 9 winners.

10 Best in Show went to Katrina Thorstensen's "Coastal
11 Overlook," described by the judge as "wonderfully evocative of a
12 foggy coastline."

13 Second place went to Chris Reid's "On the Rocks III," a
14 "lovely observation of color on snow with confident mark
15 making," according to the judge.

16 Third place went to Marianne Nealy's "The Slang, N.
17 Ferrisburg." "Greens are hard to do, but this artist handles them
18 well by utilizing bits of warm color. The bold energetic strokes
19 and competent value work gives this painting great
20 dimensionality," according to the judge.

21 "Big Red" by Laura Winn Kane is a "masterful rendering
22 of metal and glass," said the judge in giving this painting fourth
23 place.

24 "Slices of Sunshine" by Jocelyn Randles took fifth place.
25 According to the judge, Randles made "good use of 26 underpainting to support the top layers of pastel. It also made
27 nice use of aerial perspective principles to create believable
28 atmosphere and distance."

29 These paintings and others in the contest will be on 30 display at Vermont Artisan Designs, 106 Main St., through Nov.
31 22. Call 802-257-7044 or email vtartisan2@gmail.com for more
32 information.
