4 As the holiday season approaches, Parks Place
5 Community Resource Center representatives say the organization
6 is reflecting on the generosity and community spirit that make 7 their work possible year after year.

8 “We are deeply thankful for all the support we’ve 9 received this season,” Jennifer Tolaro-Heidbrink, executive 10 director of Parks Place, said in a news release. “It’s incredible to 11 see how our community comes together to care for one another.”

12 Parks Place extends heartfelt thanks to everyone who 13 contributed to the recent diaper drive — and to the local 14 businesses and organizations that hosted donation bins and made
15 contributions to help keep area families supplied with this 16 essential need.

17 The organization is also grateful to the Thomas
18 Thompson Trust and the Fanny Holt Ames & Edna Louise Holt
19 Fund for their commitment to an ongoing partnership through a 20 three-year continuous grant, ensuring that Parks Place can 21 continue providing vital services and programs to families in 22 need.

23 "We're also so appreciative of our board of directors, 24 who not only provide steadfast support but also champion our 25 mission throughout the community," Tolaro-Heidbrink added.
26 "Their dedication truly strengthens everything we do."

27 As Parks Place looks ahead to the holidays, the team is 28 seeking "holiday elves" — individuals, families, or organizations 29 willing to purchase gifts for local children through the annual 30 Holiday Gift Program.

31 Each year, Parks Places works with Chroma Technology
32 to fulfill the wish lists of local children throughout the Windham
33 Northeast school district. The organization is also welcoming 34 monetary donations to help purchase food gift cards for families, 35 so they can share a warm meal this holiday season.

36 This year, Parks Place says it has seen a significant 37 increase in community members seeking assistance, including 38 many families who have never reached out for help before. With 39 the rising cost of living, these supports are more important than 40 ever to help ensure local families can meet their basic needs and 41 experience the warmth of the season.

42 Those interested in getting involved or donating can 43 contact Parks Place at 802-463-9927, ext. 101, or 44 director@parksplacevermont.com.
