6 Yellow Barn's 17th season of Artist Residencies brings
7 2025 to a close with the Ize Trio, a multi-cultural ensemble
8 drawing influences from jazz, classical, and Middle Eastern 9 music. Their weeklong residency culminates in a free public
10 performance Friday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Big Barn.

11 Composer and pianist Chase Morrin is a familiar presence at Yellow Barn and in Putney, reaching back to 2012,

12 when he spent three summers in Yellow Barn's Young Artists
13 Program.

14 Of this latest venture, Morrin writes: "The story of Ize Trio
15 begins in Boston at the Berklee Global Jazz Institute. This special 16 program and community founded by Danilo Pérez brings 17 students and mentors together from all over the globe to 18 collaborate, innovate, and create global diplomacy through 19 music." He says they officially began the Ize Trio "seeking to 20 bring our musical backgrounds from the U.S., Cyprus, and 21 Palestine to the table and connecting through concepts of 22 improvisation and Global Jazz."

23 Ize Trio has performed at the United Nations and Panama
24 Jazz Festival, and received a Jazz Road Residencies Grant, Live
25 Arts Boston Grant, and Berklee Recording Grant, among others, 26 according to material on the artists' website. In 2024, they 27 released their first album, The Global Suites, to critical acclaim.

28 Through this residency, Morrin and his colleagues
29 George Lernis (percussion) and Naseem Alattrash (cello) had the 30 aim of furthering the mission of the trio, which members describe 31 as "continuing to hone the nuances of playing and connection 32 through arranging traditional Arabic songs from Lernis' home of 33 Palestine and Alattrash's home of Cyprus." In addition, they 34 intended to draw inspiration from those songs and to create new 35 compositions inspired by the musical rules that govern them.

36 Advance reservations for this free concert are 37 recommended but not required. Tickets can be reserved in 38 advance by calling 802-387-6637. For more information, visit
