7 Brattleboro Development Credit Corporation (BDCC) and 8 HatchSpace are partnering to offer a seven-week training 9 program designed to help adults explore careers in the 10 construction and building trades.
11 This hands-on class will introduce adults to foundational 12 construction skills and provide practical career guidance and

11 skills to support next steps in training or employment. Class will 12 meet twice weekly from March 3 to April 16.

13 Tuesday sessions will take place at HatchSpace, 22 High
14 St., and focus on introductory carpentry and construction skills,
15 such as how to use hand and power tools, construction math,
16 and core safety practices.

17 Thursday sessions will take place at the BDCC Workforce
18 Center of Excellence at 76 Cotton Mill Hill and will focus on 19 career pathways, employer expectations, resumes and interviews,
20 credentials and certifications, as well as funds available for future 21 training.

22 All tools and materials will be provided. The class is 23 designed for adults who want to explore construction for the first 24 time or who are considering a career transition into the building
25 trades. For more information and to register, visit bit.ly/845-build.
