7 ByWay Books & More, 399 Canal St., will host Joanne
8 McNeil Hayes Sunday, Jan. 11, at 2 p.m. as she presents her 9 collection of poetry based on the midwestern small town of 10 Naperville, Illinois
11 Jennifer Ramstetter assisted McNeil Hayes with her prairie research. Part of that research was discovering the many connections between Vermont and Naperville with early 19th-

12 century Vermont residents emigrating to Naperville specifically in 13 search of fertile farmland.

14 McNeil Hayes grew up in Naperville, writing poems 15 about midwestern small-town life before moving to Vermont. She 16 earned a Bachelor of Science in English from the University of 17 Wisconsin and a master's in the history of ideas/American studies 18 from Johns Hopkins University. While a professor of English, 19 gender and women's studies, and American history at Greenfield
20 (Mass.) Community College, McNeil Hayes participated in poetry 21 readings in the Northeast and Hawaii.

22 She culminated her midwestern life experiences in her 23 most recent book of poetry, I am the Prairie, published in 2025.

24 Ramstetter provided the book's foreword and highlights
25 the connection between the prairie life and the ecology McNeil 26 Hayes's poetry showcases. Ramstetter is a professor emerita at 27 Marlboro College and Emerson College, where she taught 28 biology and environmental studies.
